

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, December 13. 1707.

London, December 13.

THE Accounts, given by the Parties on both Sides, of the Rise of the Broils in Gelderland, being premis'd, (in the Courants of Wednesday last and Yesterday;) We shall now proceed to relate, from Letters and printed Pieces, the Progress of those Contests.

UPON the Seizure of the four Magistrates of Wageningen, and their Imprisonment in Arnhem; their Wives and Relations, and also divers of the Masters of Guilds and Officers of the Train-bands of Wageningen, petition'd the States of Gelderland, 'to provide ex plenitudine potestatis, in what manner they should judge most proper, for restoring the Tranquility of their Town, and setting at Liberty their said four Magistrates. The States of Gelderland pass'd a Resolution, and sent it to the Regents of Arnhem, importing, 'That on Sight thereof they should immediately release the four Prisoners, and withdraw such Volunteers of Arnhem as had been left in Wageningen. The Arnhemers thought it best to send back the said Prisoners to Wageningen the 17th, yet kept them confin'd there till the 18th; when they were set at Liberty, as appears by the following Act.

WE the Burgomasters, Justices (or Aldermen) Common-Councilmen, &c. of Wageningen, have after mature Deliberation on the Intercession and urgent Instances of M. Ignel Burgomaster of Nymeguen and M. Bouwens Burgomaster of Arnhem, to release from their Confinement Dr. J. vander Horst, B. Schaats, G. van Ede, and A. vander Horst; the rather, because they have given Security and their Parole to the said M. Ignel to behave themselves peaceably and quietly; and further, the Magistrates reserve to themselves their Actions of Law against the said releas'd Persons. Done in the Town-House of Wageningen, the 18th of October 1707.

The 19th of October, the States of the Province of Gelderland, pass'd the following Resolution: After the City of Nymeguen (as the Magistrates of Arnhem say in their printed Defence) had desir'd them to forbear resolving, for one Day only, to order any Soldiers to march to Wageningen, alledging that the President of the Assembly of the States knew that Burgomaster Bouwens of Arnhem was commission'd to go to Wageningen, to accommodate all Differences in a friendly Manner.

Mercurii, die 19 Octobris 1707.

THE States of the Principality of Gelderland and County of Zutphen, assembled at Nymeguen, have upon Deliberation thought good, and resolv'd, that the Commission of the new-establis'd Regents of Wageningen, which was Yesterday deliver'd in and read, shall be rejected: And as for the Persons detain'd, first in Arnhem and now in Wageningen, that the Order for their being set at Liberty and for the Volunteers to be withdrawn out of Wageningen, shall be obey'd; that those of the Magistracy of Wageningen who were present at the last Provincial Assembly before this, [viz. the 4 Magistrates that were put under Confinement as is aforesaid] shall be restor'd to their Offices in integrum; and after that, their noble Mightinesses will hear both Parties, and pronounce such Judgment on all that has been done at Wageningen, as upon a fair Examination of the whole Matter shall appear reasonable.

And on the many Complaints of the Burghers, Guilds, Train-bands, and Inhabitants of Wageningen, the States have thought fit to command and authorize, and do by these presents command and authorize the Deputies of the Quarter of Nymeguen, to send out of the Garrison of Nymeguen 125 Men with requisite Officers to Wageningen, with express Orders in Writing to the commanding Officer to hasten thither, and hinder the Burghers on both Sides from making any Disturbance, yet without siding with either Party, or meddling in any Affairs belonging to the Government of the Town; also, if contrary to Expectation the foresaid Persons should be still detain'd, to release them in the Names of their noble Mightinesses; further, if they should find any Volunteers in Wageningen, to bid them retire, and in Case of Opposition to secure their Persons.

Moreover, their noble Mightinesses have resolv'd, to depute M. John van Broeckhuyzen to the Hague, to represent to their High Mightinesses what has pass'd at Wageningen and the Resolutions of the States of the Province thereupon; also to desire that 3 or 4 Companies may be sent to Wageningen, and the commanding Officer be order'd to obey their noble Mightinesses or their ordinary Deputies; and the said M. John van Broeckhuyzen is to execute this Commission with all Expedition, and then return and make Report thereof to them the said States of the Province.

We shall continue this Subject in our next.
